

Good morning Major Henderson,

Here it is January 17, 2017 and a very unacceptable amount of time has passed from our initial outreach to the Salvation Army's leadership.

There has not been a single effort towards the resolution of issues from your agency. I was told by Denese Wright and yourself that Major Smith would contact me. He has not.

Your staff's actions and lack thereof, have put our organization in a very precarious position to bring public awareness to these problems.

Our organizations operate with the utmost integrity and expect nothing less from other not-for-profit organizations. The behaviors that we have been experiencing from the Salvation Army, certainly fall short of, above reproach.
