

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Thank you for taking the time to express your views regarding our Nation's veterans.

The United States shines as a beacon of freedom and security around the world because of the sacrifices of our men and women in uniform. There are more than 18 million veterans in our country, each who took an oath to keep America safe and our democracy secure. Because we will never be able to repay our heroes their sacrifices, we must guarantee that they have access to extraordinary medical care, education, and support as they return to civilian life.

Under the leadership of Secretary of Veterans Affairs, Dr. David Shulkin, my Administration will always strive, with steadfast devotion, to meet America's commitments to our veterans. We will improve the inadequate care, reduce the long wait times, and dismantle the bureaucracy that have, for years, plagued the services provided by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

To learn more about the benefits and services that the VA provides to our service men and women, veterans, and their families, please visit <https://va.gov>. You can also visit <https://www.whitehouse.gov/making-our-military-strong-again> to learn more about the steps my Administration is taking to ensure our veterans get the care they deserve.

Thank you again for your suggestions. As President, I am committed to honoring the promise our Nation made to the men and women of the Armed Forces. There's no challenge the resolve of the American people cannot overcome.

Sincerely,
